HELLO!

Welcome to the 11th Medway Open Studios & Arts Festival

This year the Festival has 28 venues to visit with work on show by over 200 artists. From watercolours, printmaking and jewellery, to textiles, ceramics and photography – Medway's artists have it all on offer this July.

We're very grateful to have continued support from our sponsors the City of Rochester Society again this year.

I draw and make marks to record the wonder-filled moments of everyday life. I enjoy the speed and sound of mark-making, using simple tools, to express my emotional responses. Sometimes these black line drawings are translated to paintings in colour, to help me explore and communicate at a different level.

Georgette's tactile pieces explore identity, mental health and memories, with concealment and distortion creating a barrier between image and viewer. Her chosen mediums are photography, textiles and mixed media.

We are a group of multi-talented artists, in a quirky hidden away space within our Victorian building, with our own private rainbow stairwell gallery and a lot of personalities. With digital illustration, photography, costume making, stone carving, prop making, resin art, acrylic pours, experimental sculptural work, together we are classed the Jacks of all trades. Our guest artist space this year is filled with wall art for our stairwell by members of The Kent Illustration Network. We are also at the Gaming Festival 1st and 2nd July.

Ayesha is a multimedia artist with a focus on illness and disability. Her work is rooted in personal experience, bringing emotion to often overly clinical subjects. She is interested in the ways that disability changes our perception of the world, and works with imperfections to create new ways of looking.

THE CITY OF ROCHESTER SOCIETY

WE'RE DELIGHTED TO BE SPONSORING MEDWAY OPEN STUDIOS AGAIN.

We enjoyed our previous involvement with Medway Open Studios & Arts Festival so much, we just had to do it again. For over 50 years we've been working hard to conserve, preserve and promote the quality of life in this city we love. And we always try to showcase local artists and photographers. So where better to view their work than during the Festival?

Join us to celebrate the very best Rochester has to offer.
